

Convex realizations of neural codes in one dimension

*Karthika Arumugam, S. R. Prathiba

karthikaarumugam@skcet.ac.in, s.r.prathiba@gmail.com

Neural codes are collective activity of the neurons which are electrically active cells in our brain. In this paper, we study the openness and closeness of the convex neural codes in one dimension. We discuss the possibilities of a convex code to be realized in dimension 1. That is, conditions for the minimal embedding dimension of a neural code to be 1.